Coordinator: Dr. Pritika Dua

Finance and Investment Cell, Aryabhata College conducted the 2nd episode of FIC Charcha. Our guest for the episode was Mr. Nikhil Kamath, co-founder of Zerodha, India's largest trading brokerage.

From dropping out of school at age 14 to becoming the youngest billionaire in the country, Nikhil Kamath provides an interesting insight into his formative years and work life.

In this episode, he talked about different asset classes, the growing popularity, and the importance of equity trading. He also spoke about what attracted him to the field of investment and trading. He discussed the huge potential of FinTech in the country and encouraged the youth to consider it as a viable career option. He also talked about the changing mindset of the people in the country from 'saving' to 'investing' and explained why saving too much is not healthy for the economy in the long run.

He described the risks involved in entrepreneurship and the importance of formal education, social skills, and money management.

For the UNILINE Power Question of The Week, Mr. Kamath answered how Zerodha managed to get the largest market share among all the trading platforms despite having no marketing budget. Lastly, we had an exciting rapid-fire round where questions relating to personal life were asked.
